Projects Anthology

---

Every project has its own distinct personality, just like the needs and desires of those who commission them are different and distinct. Cesar's strength lies in the ability to listen to the client and creatively fulfil their requests. The objective is to create a space in which people can feel that they are in total harmony with themselves, with others, and with the urban or natural context that surrounds them. Interior design thus becomes an extension of the individual, made up not only of high-quality materials, innovative technologies, and functional solutions, but also emotions and sensations that ensure a sense of well-being.

Designing a kitchen in such a way that it becomes the emotional centre of the home and furnishing a home in such a way that it reflects the beauty and harmony which are inherent to every single person.

Our Values

IDENTITY

Cesar's story began 50 years ago. The acquisition of skills and our ability to listen to clients have contributed to the formation of our identity, which is expressed through a strong brand personality: our décor and style are immediately recognisable and represent an exceptional tradition that we're very proud of.

LISTENING

A focus on the individual and on his or her needs are the foundation of our work and are expressed in two ways: in general through the study of harmonious and functional décor that's optimised for daily use, and individually through our willingness to create customised and tailored arrangements.

VISION

Our daily work is inspired by an ability to look to the future: new materials and new technologies, combined with a focus on and a sensitivity towards new lifestyles have always influenced our projects.

Our Values

DESIGN CULTURE

We design spaces in which people can feel comfortable with themselves, with others, and with their surroundings. Hence the decision to design on a human scale and to create customized and functional projects using a carefully selected range of materials that are combined with the precision of shapes to convey emotional and visual harmony.

SERVICE

The relationship with the customer starts in the design phase and continues well beyond the delivery of the product. Our approach to service allows us to establish a relationship with each client based not only on the stability of our production, but also on the speed with which our customer care team quickly finds the solution to any problem.

RESEARCH

Design cannot exist without curiosity: the constant evolution of components, materials, processes, and technologies allows the most creative ideas to materialise into new solutions. The ongoing search for alternatives, as well as the rediscovery of long-lost traditions, make our design projects.

One project for the whole house

A bold and distinctive stylistic concept guarantees a cohesive interior design project that seamlessly connects the entire home, from the kitchen to the living room, and from the bathroom to the entrance. Freedom of design is ensured by the modularity of Cesar's products and by the opportunity to select and personalise materials, finishes, and colours based on individual preferences. The Home Elements collection in particular offers excellent solutions for connecting the various environments, providing flexible and tailored functions based on specific needs.

DEVELOPER: DRK East 7th Street LLC

ARCHITECTURAL FIRM: Issac | Stern Architects

This contract project in New York City, overseen by Issac | Stern Architects, brought Cesar onboard for the creation of Italian-design kitchens in a six-story, grey-brick building featuring windows with metal frames. The seven luxury apartments, ranging from 708 to 1.653 square feet, are bathed in natural light thanks to the large windows and bright interiors. The Cesar NYC kitchens boast Bosch appliances, quartz countertops and backsplashes, and modern furniture with elegant finishes. These details blend perfectly into the modern context, providing a pleasant contrast to the neighbourhood's historic architecture.

Designed by BKV Group, the apartments of the Piazza Alta building come in four different styles: Timeless, Scandinavian, Sleek, and Ultra-Luxe/Penthouse, each with its own accessories, finishes, and colour palettes.
